2015 Pinot Noir, King Ridge Vineyard, Fort Ross-Seaview AVA

CASE PRODUCTION: 168 | SRP: $85

I loved the 2015 Pinot Noir King Ridge Vineyard, a rich, serious effort that has terrific freshness and focus. Blackberries, scorched earth, and toasted spice notes all emerge from the glass. With high yet nicely integrated acidity, fine tannin, and a great finish, it's an outstanding Pinot Noir from the cooler Fort Ross-Seaview AVA that's going to benefit from a year or two of bottle age and drink nicely for at least 7-8 years. – Jeb Dunnuck

2015 Pinot Noir, 1861 Vineyard, Sonoma Valley

CASE PRODUCTION: 45 | SRP: $95

Pale to medium ruby-purple colored, the 2015 Pinot Noir 1861 Vineyard gives up pronounced notes of crushed Bing cherries, mulberries and cranberries with nuances of rose hips, lavender, tilled soil, forest floor and mossy bark plus a waft of dried herbs. Medium to full-bodied, the palate delivers layer upon layer of red berries and floral notions, with a beautifully plush frame and oodles of freshness, finishing very long and fragrant. Drink date 2018-2028. – Lisa Perrotti-Brown

2015 Pinot Noir, Anne Katherina Vineyard, Carneros-Sonoma AVA

The 2015 Pinot Noir Anne Katherina Vineyard comes from Carneros and offers a more supple, forward style in its cherry and strawberry fruit, spice, and earthy/forest floor aromas and flavors. With medium body and a vibrant, lively, pure style, it's another gorgeous Pinot Noir that's going to evolve gracefully. It's slightly more graceful and elegant compared to the King Ridge Vineyard. – Jeb Dunnuck

2015 Chardonnay, Laceroni Vineyard, Russian River AVA

The 2015 Chardonnay Laceroni Vineyard is a beauty. Racy, vibrant, and exuberant, with lots of white peach, exotic citrus, and floral notes, it hits the palate with medium body, terrific concentration, and high, yet integrated acidity. Aged 15 months in 45% new French oak, it's a seriously impressive Chardonnay from winemaker Kenneth Juhasz. – Jeb Dunnuck
